

Postdoctoral position in molecular cardiology

We are looking for a highly motivated postdoctoral fellow to join the Molecular Regulation of Heart Failure laboratory led by Dr Enrique Lara-Pezzi at the National Centre for Cardiovascular Research (CNIC) as a post-doctoral fellow co-funded by the European Union to lead a project aiming to unveil the molecular mechanisms of inherited cardiomyopathies and heart failure. You can find our latest publications here.

We offer:

- 3 year contract starting in September 2025
- State-of-the art technical units and facilities
- Ambitious and multi-disciplinary project
- Vibrant scientific environment and friendly atmosphere
- Personalised career development plan
- Tailored training programme to boost postdoc's future career
- Optional short stay in one of the 24 industrial, clinical or basic research partners participating in our postdoctoral programme
- Competitive salary depending on experience

Eligibility Criteria:

- PhD in the life sciences
- Good command of English
- Prior experience in cardiovascular research and/or molecular biology is preferred
- First-author publications and international experience is a plus
- Essential requirement: Researchers must not have resided or carried out their main activity in Spain for more than 12 months in the last 36 months

If you are interested, please send your CV, motivation letter and references to elara@cnic.es before 1 October 2024.

